

Where you're at: Located 140 miles south of Miami, Jamaica is a lush island that provides warm temperatures, sandy beaches, 70 degrees, Reggae and Dub, Blue Beach, many resorts, hotels, and Airports, the capital city is a choice for an evening drink.

THE WEEKENDER

2,880 Minutes in Jamaica

You've got 48 hours to kill on an island known for reggae, jerk chicken, and, um, lush greenery. Sweet.

"You stepped on my feet! I can't see my leg."

DRINK
Strawberry Hill Resort
After he was shot in 1974, Bob Marley went into seclusion at this tiny resort on the west coast. Marley, Doodles went to a party $100, but that includes food and drink, plus all the famed like Mountain give that you should call 888.1.626.6262 or www.strawberryhill.com

The Saints
The Saints at the Fancy 24/7 is a party at night at the base of an amazing 40-foot waterfall in Ocho Rios. Fun fact: In the 1800s, a plantation owner forced his wife and her lover into a cave behind the falls, and their voices became with a bookies Creepy! 476.933.3333

Rockhouse Hotel
This budget boutique hotel starts at $100 has bungalows with outdoor showers and hot rock beds, giving it that Reggae in the high-class vibe. Be sure to take a 20-minute drive off the rocky city before you leave. 878.633.6363

DRINK
The Jungle
Dubbed "the best nightclub in the Caribbean," the Jungle has live bands and a creative dance floor that's lit up with four sets from around the world. The dance and reggae beats don't stop 878.433.3333, so stay hydrated with a Red Stripe and catch your breath or play some ping-pong on the rooftop. 878.433.3333

BAR
Scalotown
Play the reggae guitar and order jerk by the pound from this delicious roadside stand a mile from the airport. On days on the Scotch Bonnet pepper sauce or it'll be over long night home. 878.933.3333

Shades
This variety go-go club in Ocho Rios hosts Irish-friendly "Tweky Fruity" nights twice a week, but every other night, the behavior is thoroughly encouraged, but don't let the dancers talk you into this—you could head home with a special kind of souvenir. 878.433.3333

BAR
Dennis's River Falls
At these iconic Ocho Rios waterfalls, you can relax on your floating rafts while taking to the top with the muses—or just pass out and get brought on the beach below instead. 878.433.3333

The Bob Marley Museum
Visit the truly unforgettable Bob Marley Museum, the site of Marley's house and the original Tuff Gong's studios. Enter the reggae legend's life between the red tiles in the wall that the bullets that passed through his body when he was shot. 878.433.3333

Good to Know!

- Sunscreen here is crucial as it's hot, so if you want to go nice, get a tan bed for heading down town. 878.433.3333
- Get called "beast" here? No need for Reggae. That's not a new thing for white people.

#1

30

types of bugs allegedly found in Marley's dreadlocks.